I have learned with regret that for personal reasons you have resigned from the Agency. The separation of an employee with your experience and ability is indeed a great loss to us.

Your performance over the past fifteen years with this Agency and its predecessors has been of that degree of excellence that we consider you one of our outstanding professional women. I am sure that you have more than earned your reputation as a dedicated officer who has put the Agency ahead of your personal interests.

I wish you the very best of luck in whatever you may undertake after your departure from Washington.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
